

Designated Dormitory 2025 Joint Application System Admission Requirements

Dormitory managers live in the designated dormitories to help support students day to day. Rooms are private and equipped with basic furniture. Two well-balanced meals (breakfast and dinner) are provided daily. Many students living alone for the first time find this helpful.

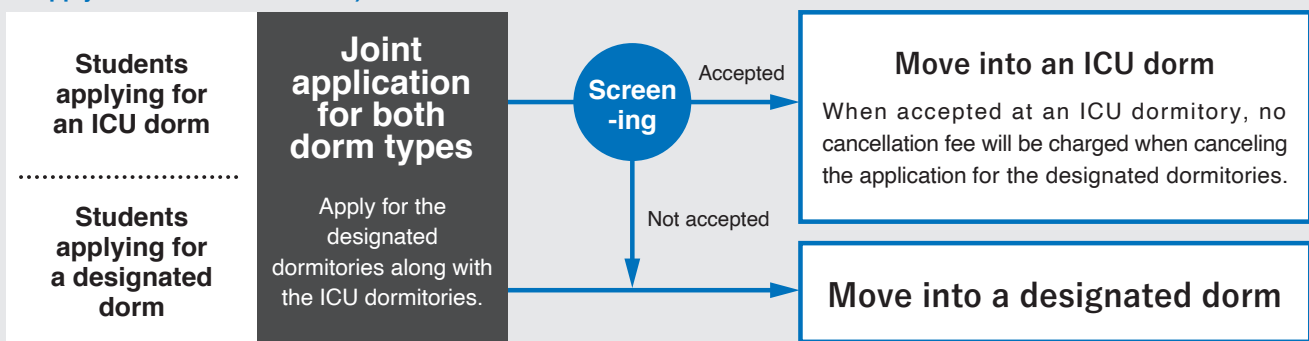

There are no community chore requirements most designated dormitories are no curfew.

The Joint Application System offers a limited number of spaces for applying for a room in an ICU dormitory and a designated dormitory simultaneously.

This Joint Application System allows applicants to apply for a room in a designated dormitory while waiting for the screening results for the ICU dormitories to be announced. *Students not selected for an ICU dormitory will be assigned to the designated dormitory in the order their applications were received. This will ensure not having to look for accommodation at the last minute. Please refer to the details as follows.

Three commendable points about the student dormitories

1 Resident dorm manager and dorm mother

Full security, with auto locks and security cameras installed. The resident dorm manager and dorm mother live on site, so you can feel reassured about your safety in case of emergencies.

2 Two homemade meals daily

Nutritionally balanced morning and evening meals, cooked at each dorm. You can choose between Japanese and Western breakfasts.

3 Private furnished room

As each private room is furnished with basic furniture and equipment, it is economical and there is no need to worry about the (hassle) hassle of bringing heavy luggage and a lot of furniture when moving in.
